

SIGNS OF LIFE Scavenger Hunt

Step into your backyard and look for signs of life in the natural world. A bird flying in the sky, a squirrel's pine cone feast, a caterpillar, woodpecker holes. If you see animal tracks, holes in the ground where chipmunks live, insect burrows in logs, feathers - all of those sightings count as signs of life! Your second task is to find one sign of spring - a swelling bud, green shoots, a robin. Draw what you find in the boxes below and take notes.
