

LISTENING Scavenger Hunt

In the early morning and evening you will have a really good chance of hearing birds, frogs, roosters, and other creatures out and about. Any time of day you may hear the wind in the trees, water rushing, twigs snapping, dogs barking, cars on the road. Go out into your yard and find a comfy place to sit on the ground. Listen closely and see if you can hear four different sounds. Close your eyes for a minute and listen. Guess what the sound belongs to without opening your eyes. Then draw a map of what you heard in the directions you thought you heard the sounds. Label your map!
