About GreenbieTrail

Greenbie was protected, in 1993, when the Greenbie family generously gifted the land to the town of Castine, and a conservation easement to The Conservation Trust of Brooksville, Castine, and Penobscot. Blue Hill Heritage Trust took over the easement, in 2014, when it merged with TCT, and now maintains the 43 acres and trails.

A walking trail crosses the field, passes beautiful stone walls, and leads to the edge of a beaver flowage, through a variety of woods. Some trees on the trail are over a hundred years old. The trail crosses two small seasonal streams.
