About The Surry Forest

This 2,114-acre property was heavily harvested, in winter 2013/14, and will be a long-term conservation and education project. In addition to recreational opportunities, this is a managed forest, also used for research. Signage on the loop trail will introduce you to the various things happening in the forest. The land was purchased with a Maine Natural Resource Conservation Program grant, the generous support of several private donors, and is dedicated the Trust's former board President, Pam Johnson, who passed away in 2016

The central loop in Surry Forest is 3 miles round trip from the gate on gravel roads. This is a great place to walk, ski, or let kids ride bikes. It is also a great place to see birds who like young forest habitat.
