About Snow Natural Area

Originally conserved by The Conservation Trust of Brooksville, Castine, and Penobscot, Snow Natural Area came to BHHT in the 2014 merger. Watch along the Bagaduce River for Nab Island, reversing rapids, horseshoe crabs, and ospreys.

Explore regenerating spruce/fir forest and great views, along 2550 feet of Bagaduce frontage, one of only four estuary systems in Maine with horseshoe crab populations. Harbor seals swim up the river in warmer weather, and have had pups in a cove near Snow Natural Area.

Nab Island is only accessible at low tide, so don't get stranded! Please use caution not to disturb the fragile island ecosystem.
